

Costume wearer notes

Overview

Ivor and Honor Goodsite have been designed to act as promotional characters for the UK construction industry, promoting all that is positive about the industry to a younger audience. The industry mascots are both very professional and wear the correct protective clothing to work on a construction site. Ivor is a Site Manager and owner of Goodsite Construction who is a CSCS card holder as well as being a qualified First Aider, while Honor is a Structural Engineer and works for Goodsite Engineering. Honor is also a CSCS card holder and promotes equality in the workplace.

Being in character

- The characters of Ivor and Honor do NOT speak.
- Realise that all eyes are staring at Ivor and Honor, and not you.
- Your movements need to be slightly exaggerated although don't try and act; be natural.
- Be confident; get involved.
- In costume, all you need to do is walk around, waving and shaking hands with people.
- And most importantly - enjoy yourself!

Warning: When wearing the costumes you will become very hot. Take regular breaks and drink plenty of water. It is recommended that you spend no more than 30 minutes in costume at any time.
